BODY OF MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE

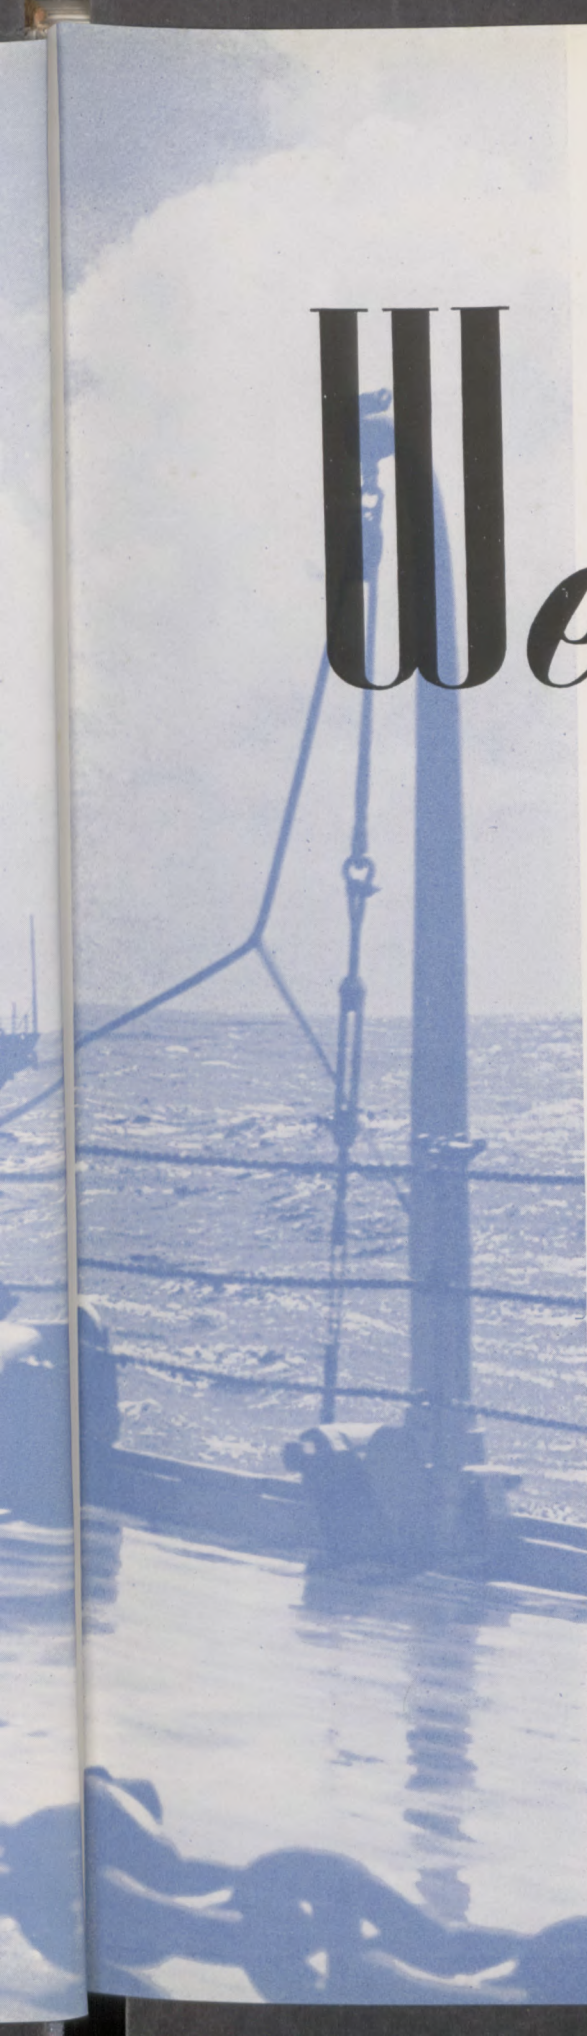

FOREWORD

IN THIS THIRD YEAR OF WAR MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE HAS TAKEN DEFINITE STEPS WHICH PROVE THAT SHE IS SERVING THE NATION, TOO. MOST IMPORTANT OF THESE WAS THE ADMISSION OF THE NAVY V-12 UNIT. THE PROFOUND INFLUENCE OF THE NAVAL UNIT ON OUR ALMA MATER IS ONLY PARTIALLY SEEN IN HER BROADER OUTLOOK, INCREASED FACULTY AND FACILITIES, CHANGED SCHEDULES, AND VARIED EMPHASES. BUT ALSO M. C. HAS LEFT HER MARK ON EACH SAILOR WHO HAS ENTERED HER PORTALS.

IN THIS BUNDLE OF WORDS AND PICTURES THE STAFF OF THE 1944 TRIBESMAN HAS ATTEMPTED TO PRESENT A REPRESENTATIVE GLIMPSE OF LIFE AT MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE, IN THE YEAR 1943-44. WE BELIEVE THAT THESE PEOPLE AND ACTIONS ARE WORTH REMEMBERING. WE WILL BE HIGHLY REWARDED IF THIS 38TH EDITION OF THE TRIBESMAN FREQUENTLY BRINGS YOU BACK IN FOND MEMORIES TO THAT M. C.

We salute

All the Choctaws who have left Mississippi College and their normal lives to take up arms for their country in this struggle known as World War II, and we proudly dedicate the 1944 "Tribesman" to them. The United States stands because of these Choctaws and their fellow fighters. M. C. is proud of these, her sons. Able, courageous, and patriotic, they say by their actions that no price is too dear for Victory, Liberty, and the right to be treated as individual personalities.

We pay special tribute to the following who have made the supreme sacrifice:

GEORGE WILLIAM BESWICK	Blue Mountain, Miss.
REUBEN COLLINS COOPER	Tylertown, Miss.
JESSE DEE FRANKS, JR.	Columbus, Miss.
PERCY EDWARD HAILEY (Chaplain)	Flora, Miss.
GROVER CLEVELAND HODGE, JR.	Biloxi, Miss.
LOUIS BREY HOOD	Goss, Miss.
JULIAN DONALDSON KEITH	Raymond, Miss.
KENNETH DALTON McCULLAR	Portland, Miss.
GEORGE MOREHEAD	Clinton, Miss.
JOHN VAN BUREN NALL, JR.	Petal, Miss.
ROBERT ISHMAEL PRIESTER	Brookhaven, Miss.
HORACE EUGENE SUGG	Carrolton, Miss.

They gave their lives.

President D. M. Nelson

For twelve years Dr. Nelson has efficiently and successfully led our Alma Mater through prosperity and depression. He is now called upon to direct its destiny through world-wide social, political, economic and religious upheavals, the extent of which the world has not seen before. He has shown himself a capable executive, and the many friends of Mississippi College join in wishing him continued success for the future.

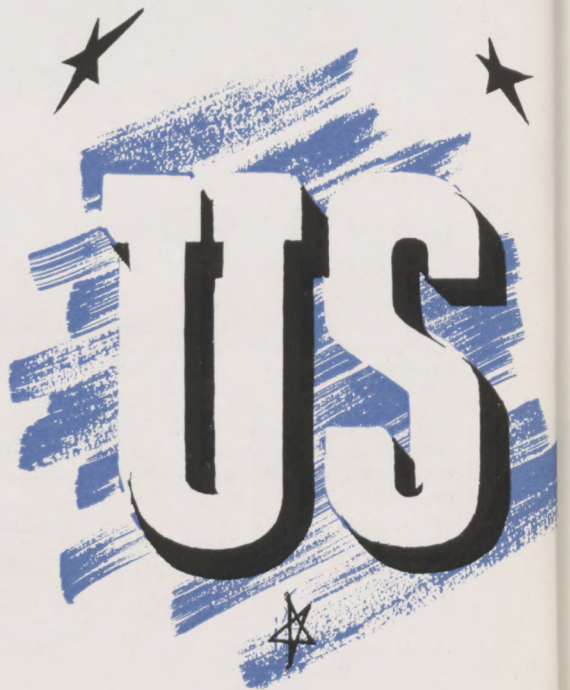

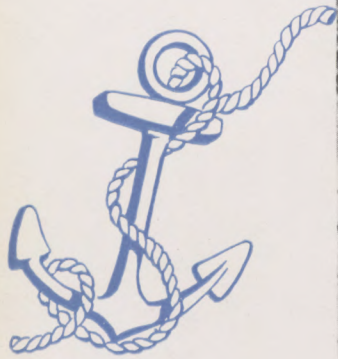

When the present holocaust of war has burned itself out the flickering and smoldering embers of national and international reconstruction will present many perplexing problems in the educational world. Our president, being a man of vision, is fully aware of the impending maladjustments and is now planning for an expanded program in the post-war period. We are confident that the destiny of Mississippi College is secure in his capable hands.

Lieut. A. K. Burt, Commanding Officer

The members of the naval unit esteem themselves very fortunate in having Lieutenant Arthur K. Burt as their Commanding Officer. A Rhodes Scholar to Oxford and formerly an Assistant Professor of English at the City College of New York, Mr. Burt assumed the leadership of the newly inaugurated unit on July 1, 1943. He and his staff have, through their meritorious efforts, made this unit one of the most outstanding in the country.

THE COLLEGE

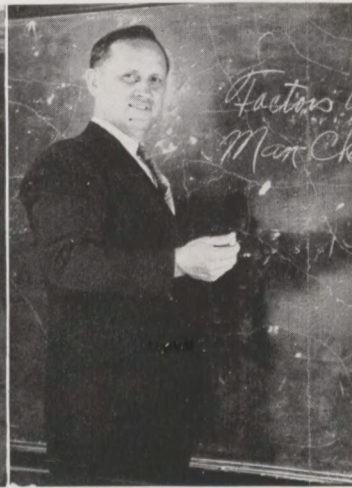

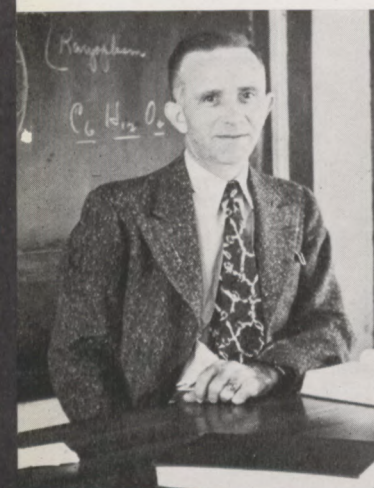

DEAN W. H. SUMRALL

We proudly present our dean! The administrative duties of this office are many and varied, but Dr. Sumrall performs them effectively and cheerfully. Knotty schedules are no problem to him. He literally smiles his way through the many problems of his office, and that smile has become a permanent fixture on our campus. Truly a friend of the students, he is one of the most popular professors on the campus.

The fellows at Mississippi College render a service worthy of commendation. Hard work, little praise, and more than their share of criticism are their rewards. They work steadily and fairly to grade and record the marks which are the steppingstones to graduation. We are aware of the fact that they are contributing much by way of lightening the duties of the busy professors. We salute these worthy students who find time, beyond that required for their own studies, to perform this service!

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

LUTHER WHITE
President

BURKE TRAVIS
Vice-President and
TED GIBSON
Attorney

Student government has long been an established institution on the campus of Mississippi College. The democratic spirit found among the students is a result of the ingrained desire for self-regulation in matters of discipline and decorum. Government of the students, by the students, and for the students has been found to be one of the most effective means of expression and control thus far employed. The ability of students to regulate themselves effectively is indicative of the high quality of character to be found on the campus.

Annual elections are held for the selection of the student body officers. Throughout the election the principles of fairness and good sportsmanship are demanded by all. Various councils and committees are formed for specialized functions. The Executive Council, largely composed of the principal student body officers, assumes the bulk of the responsibility for good government. The Honor Council is selected for the purpose of insuring and encouraging honesty among the students in all matters. Student government at Mississippi College, therefore, is of practical value in fitting the student for greater civic usefulness in later life.

The

SENIOR CLASS

OFFICERS

Randall Corkern, vice-president; Betty Lu Scott, secretary and treasurer; Lem Sales, president.

CHARLES M. ALEXANDER

JAYESS, MISS.

Marcus is a product of the "piney-woods" section of the state. He is a member of the Hermenian Literary Society, of which he is the treasurer. The Ministerial Association is his other main interest.

CHAPMAN L. ANDERSON, JR.

JACKSON, MISS.

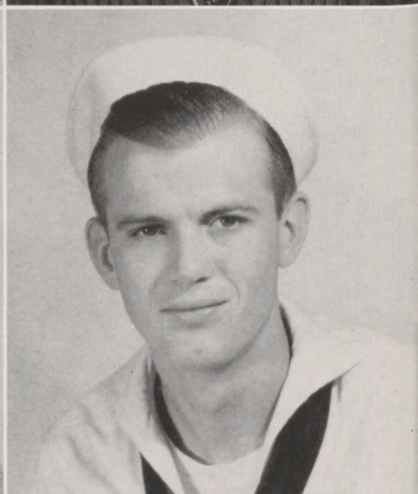

You can spot Chappie any time by his wide smile. Coming by way of Hinds Junior College and Millsaps, he has completed his work on a biology major. He had special interests in the Pre-Med Club last year, and has served as non-Baptist representative on the B. S. U. Council.

KATHRYN BARLOW

JACKSON, MISS.

Since coming to Mississippi College from Copiah-Lincoln Junior College, Kathryn has distinguished herself in many ways. She's a fellow for both the mathematics and chemistry departments. She's due for a B.S. degree, with a major in chemistry.

TOM N. BRADDOCK

RIPLEY, MISS.

When the naval unit became a reality, Tom decided to stick to M. C.; so he's now a member of Company A, Platoon 2. His wide range of activities included membership in the Philomathean Literary Society, Pre-Med Club, the Theater, the Choral Union, and the Band. A chemistry major, he's working for the B.S. degree.

WILLIAM A. BROTHERTON
WALNUT, MISS.

A former student at Memphis State College, William is now directing his studies at Mississippi College to become an Ensign in the Naval Reserve. Bill has made many friends on the campus, and has carried on here in the best tradition of a Navy man.

THELMA BYRD
NEW ORLEANS, LA.

Don't let her sophisticated manner fool you. She's really a native Mississippian. The main interest in her life is Freddie, as the ring on her left hand will show. She's majoring in English. After college she'll be taking a course in applied home-making.

WALLACE E. CALDWELL
BALDWIN, MISS.

"Mike" came to Mississippi College from Memphis State, and is now studying to become an Ensign in Uncle Sam's Navy. "Mike's" popularity on the campus is largely due to his amiable personality and friendly greeting.

ELAINE CAUSEY
JACKSON, MISS.

Elaine really showed where her sympathies lie when she transferred, to M. C. from Blue Mountain College. Her major—commercial science—indicates her ambition to be the model secretary.

ANDREW J. CHANDLER
JACKSON, MISS.

Andrew's time was well taken up his senior year in college. His main extra-curricular activity was the Ministerial Association and besides his studies he carried on full time church work.

TED R. CLARK
CLINTON, MISS.

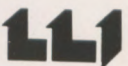

He is a member of the Ministerial Association, vice-president of the International Relations Club, winner of the Miles Dampier Scholarship, a fellow in languages, a member of the Honor Council, selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, and also holder of a special distinction average. An all-round athlete, Ted holds the home-run record for last year in softball. He likes football and basketball, but swimming is his choice of all.

RANDALL A. CORKERN
SPRING CREEK, LA.

Randall is the type who makes friends easily. His classmates say he is a dynamo of energy which is not doubted in the least. He is a member of the Little Symphony and the Ministerial Association. A red Ford is his pride and joy.

BETTY LYNN DONALD FITLER, MISS.

Known by everyone as "Bump" or "Bumpkin," Betty Lynn is a "reg'lar" girl. After graduating from Hillman College, she chose M. C. as her alma mater. She's a member of both the Delta Club and the Hermeanian Literary Society.

MIRIAM EASOM

RAYMOND, MISS.

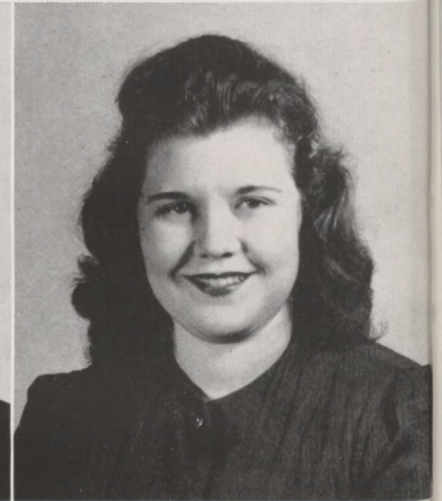

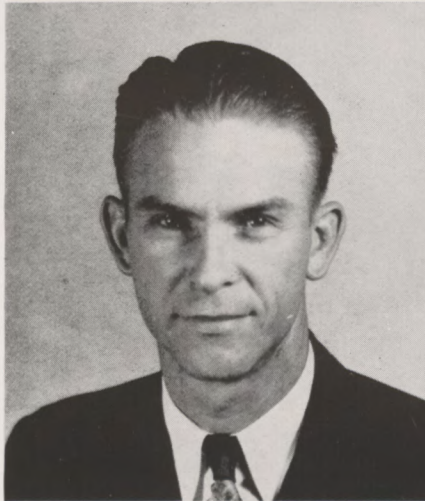

Miriam came to M. C. last year from Hinds Junior College. Like her dad, she's planning to make education her line of work. Her clarinet is an invaluable addition to the Little Symphony and the Band.

JAMES GLENN FLYNT

LAUREL, MISS.

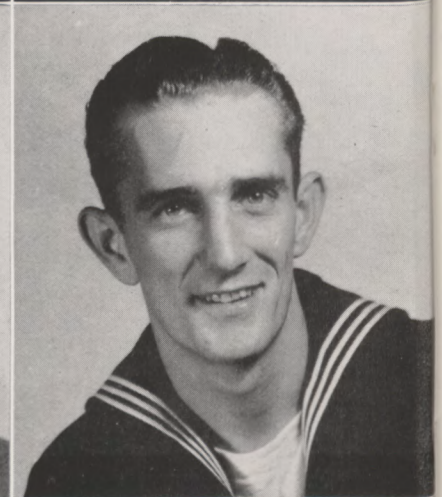

Glenn is a transfer from Clark Junior College. M. C. would like to have more like him. He is a member of the Ministerial Association and carries full time church work. Incidentally, this southpaw can throw a wicked curve and covered the initial sack on the Choctaw softball team last year in a worthy fashion.

W. M. FORE, JR.

CLINTON, MISS.

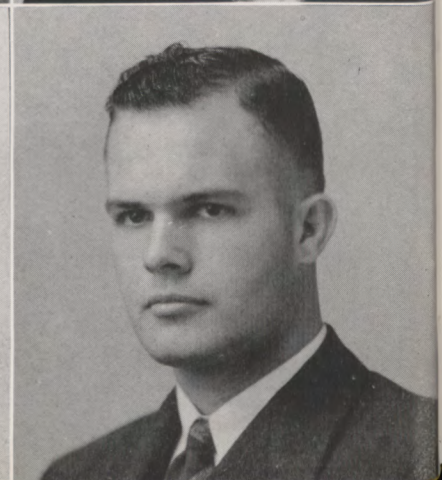

Bill, following in his father's footsteps, is studying for the ministry and is a member of the Ministerial Association. When shopping for an engagement ring for Dot, he decided to get two for a bargain, and he already has both on her third finger, left hand.

MRS. W. M. FORE, JR.

CLINTON, MISS.

Transferring as Miss Dorothy Jones from Alabama College, Montevallo, Alabama, Dot has since secured the name of another Alabamian. She is a Hermenian and a member of the Ministers' Wives Association.

MARY EMILY GREENWAY

SILVER CREEK, MISS.

Mary Emily was outstanding as a student of Hillman College and has continued to be a favorite among M. C. students. She has currently turned school-marm, believe it or not. While here, she was a staunch supporter of the Hermenian Literary Society.

'TELKA GUY

MCCOMB, MISS.

You'll always find 'Telka the life of the party. A transfer from Southwest Junior College and Millsaps, she fitted perfectly at M. C. Having edited the Southwest annual, she pitched in to help on the TRIBESMAN as class editor. In the Who's Who poll she was elected the wittiest. She is a member of the Hermenian Literary Society and the I. R. C., a fellow in English and can make any old piano "give out" boogie-woogie.

JERRY HALL

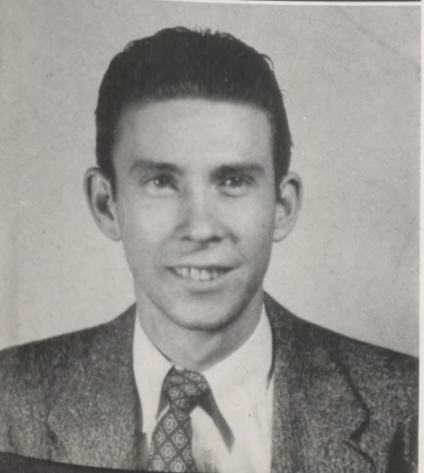

DE SOTO, MISS.

Jerry transferred from Ole Miss. He could be found almost any time struttin' his stuff at The Owl and he seems to have acquired a special fondness for freshman English. He is a member of the Hermenian Literary Society and for the past two terms has been a member of the V-12 unit at M. C.

PAUL HAWKINS

RALEIGH, MISS.

Paul's educational pursuits before coming to M. C. include two years at Ellisville Junior College and a short stay at Clarke College. He is a member of the Ministerial Association. During the year Paul obtained a degree in "matrimony" and a B.A. degree should make matters complete.

DEVEE HILLMAN

LEAKESVILLE, MISS.

Watch it, girls! That Leakesville fellow with the rotund figure is the wolf of the campus! Since transferring from Jones Junior College, Devée has literally shaken the foundations of the halls of M. C. with his uproarious laughter. He is president of the Hermenian Literary Society and treasurer of the Ministerial Association.

JOHN T. HOLSTON, JR.

LUMBERTON, MISS.

That the girls all call him "Sweetie-pie" shows his speed. J. T. came to Mississippi College from Pearl River Junior College. As a ministerial student, he has been interested in religious activities, and is affiliated with the Ministerial Association.

JAMES ALBERT HURT

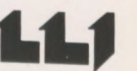

LOUISVILLE, MISS.

Jimmy, now in Company B, Platoon 1, has made a name for himself during his previous years. He has served as secretary of his Sophomore Class, a staunch Hermenian member, secretary and treasurer of the student body last year, representative on the Executive Council, member of the M Club, the Ministerial Association, the Theater, and the B. S. U. Council.

JOSEPH HOFF

JACKSON, MISS.

Formerly a student at Copiah-Lincoln Junior College, Joe is another of the school car travelers. His main interests are his major, Chemistry, and his mathematics minor, photography, and the Little Symphony Orchestra.

GEORGE JENKINS

LUCEDALE, MISS.

George is one of those fellows you can't fail to notice. He is an active member of the Ministerial Association, president of the Philomathean Literary Society, and second vice-president on the B. S. U. Council.

BETTY SUE JOHNSON

WATER VALLEY, MISS.

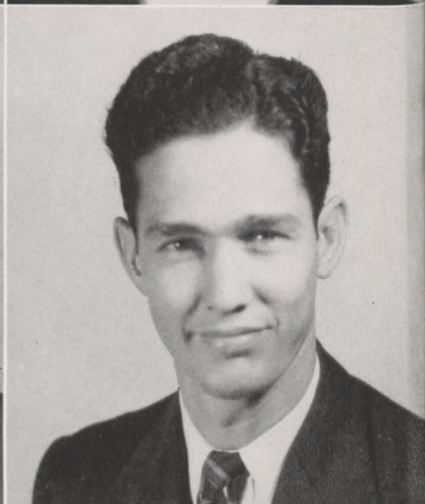

Betty Sue's record has shown high scholastic ability. She's a chemistry major and a very efficient fellow in that department and in mathematics, a member of the I. R. C., and merited recognition in Who's Who Among Students of American Universities and Colleges. As for her future plans, just look at that diamond on her left hand.

LILY HOWELL JOHNSON

BIG CREEK, MISS.

Coming only recently to M. C. from Holmes Junior College, Lily Howell's quiet charm has won for her many friends. She's a very capable economic and sociology fellow, member of the Philomathean Literary Society, and a member of the I. R. C.

ERNEST EARL KELLY

ECRU, MISS.

Earl transferred to M. C. from Sunflower Junior College, and has since distinguished himself in the Hermean Literary Society and in the Ministerial Association.

BETTY RUTH KEYES

SUMMERLAND, MISS.

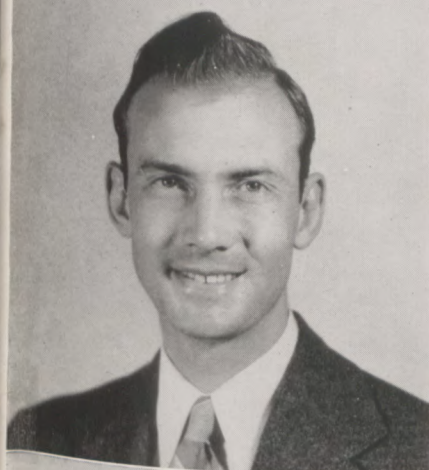

A transfer from Jones Junior College, Betty Ruth has been steadily pursuing her B.S. degree. Already accepted at U. T., she plans to make laboratory technology her field, and from the looks of things, she'll be a big success.

CANA MCKEE

BATESVILLE, MISS.

Charming, attractive, Cana has won a host of friends since coming to M. C. from Northeast Junior College. She holds a psychology fellowship. Her major is commercial science; she's a member of the Hermenian Literary Society and first vice-president on the B. S. U. Council.

CLARK WALTER MCMURRAY

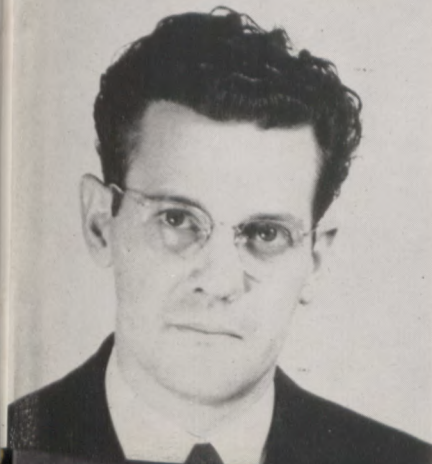

SKENE, MISS.

Coming from Holmes Junior College, Clark has proved to be a speedy basketball player and member of the M Club, a staunch Hermenian, member of the Delta Club, and a faithful member of the Ministerial Association.

SUE KEMP MAJURE

JACKSON, MISS.

Ask her who is the best man in the world and she'll say, "Al, of course." Marking time till her husband's return from England, Sue is continuing her college work with a major in psychology. Transferring from Belhaven, she served last summer as secretary of the Hermenian Literary Society.

PERCY MAGEE

BOGALUSA, LA.

Studying for the ministry, Percy has proved versatile indeed. As a mile-racer, he was initiated into the M Club; he is a member of the Philomathean Literary Society and the Ministerial Association; and he's majoring in modern languages.

HOUSTON EMILE MARTIN

HOUMA, LA.

"Frenchie" came to M. C. from Southwestern Louisiana Institute. Good-natured, ever-smiling, he has been a member of both the Hermenian Literary Society and the Ministerial Association.

FLOYD MAURICE OWEN

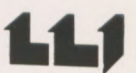

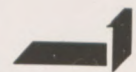

LENA, MISS.

Maurice is majoring in mathematics and minoring in chemistry, in which department he holds a fellowship. He has made a place for himself at M. C. where he is a member of the Philomathean Literary Society.

TOM L. PFEIFER

CLINTON, MISS.

The various positions he holds show the trust placed in him: president of the Ministerial Association, member of the Honor Council, M. A. representative on the B. S. U. Council, and a member of the Philomathean Literary Society.

WILLIAM POPE

DALLAS, TEXAS

Bill is known on the campus for his active work as a member of the staff of the Watch, the Navy's paper, and he has contributed much to its success. Formerly a student at Baylor University, Bill is now studying with Uncle Sam's Navy.

FRANK L. RAYNOR

FREEPORT, TEXAS

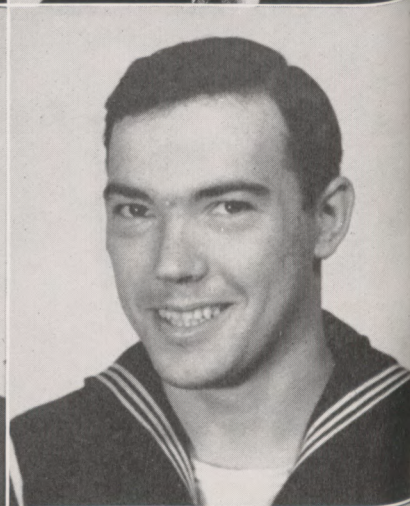

He's from Texas and doesn't fail to let you know it. Frank, member of Company A, Platoon 1, has proved himself a genial friend to many.

MILLARD GUY REEDY

ABERDEEN, MISS.

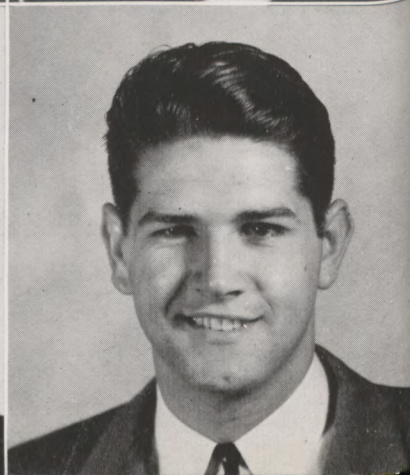

Guy has a winning personality. Proof of this is seen in his winning of the hand of Doris Spenser during his junior year at M. C.—and we could add—he knows how to pick 'em! A member of the Ministerial Association, he also carries half-time church work. His "gags" and "pranks" will be missed at M. C.

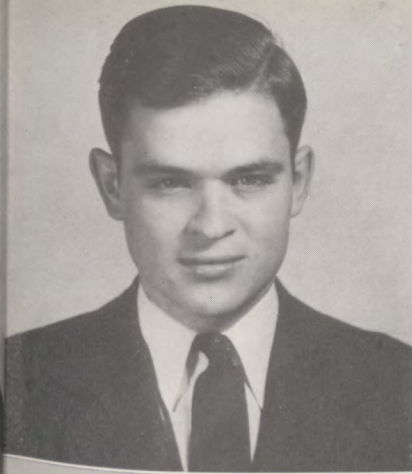

PERCY RENICK

HICKORY FLAT, MISS.

An active ministerial student, Percy has found time to engage in membership in the Ministerial Association, the Hermean Literary Society, and the Choral Union.

EUGENE LEONARD ROBERTS
MOBILE, ALA.

"Pud" came to M. C. via Clarke Memorial Junior College. As B. S. U. treasurer, he distinguished himself as the originator of the budget. He maintains a distinction average, is business manager of the TRIBESMAN, member of Ministerial Association, Choral Union, and the Philomathean Literary Society.

JOE DeKALB ROBERTS
LAUREL, MISS.

Joe's genial smile is a real asset to the campus. He's the same every day and never at a loss for words. Being a versatile young man, Joe has received many honors at M. C. which include a fellowship in English, president of the Philomathean Literary Society, a member of the debate team, a member of the B. S. U. Council for three years, and editor of the TRIBESMAN. He resigned these activities to enter the Navy but received a discharge after a short time due to a physical ailment. In addition to all of these honors he has received recognition in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

WILLIAM C. RUCKER
DYERSBURG, TENN.

Formerly attending the University of Tennessee, Bill is now studying to win his commission in the Naval Reserve. His friendly smile and pleasant greeting have made him exceptionally well liked on the campus.

GEORGE LEMUEL SALES
HYATTSVILLE, MD.

After attending Mars Hill Junior College "up thar" in the North Carolina mountains, Lem decided on M. C. to continue his education. Among his many attainments are these: member of the Ministerial Association, member of the I. R. C., president of the senior class, member of the Choral Union, and member of the Philomathean Literary Society.

LAWRENCE EVERETT SAUL
LAUREL, MISS.

Lawrence, a graduate of Jones Junior College, has proved himself a capable leader. Perhaps you know him as church secretary, or president of the B. S. U. Council, which he has made a vital organization on the campus. In the Ministerial Association, he is pianist.

BETTY LU SCOTT
TYLERTOWN, MISS.

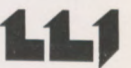

Betty Lu, elected most beautiful last year, is a transfer from Blue Mountain College. She is a member of the Philomathean Literary Society, secretary-treasurer of the senior class, secretary-treasurer of the Dramatic Club, and fellow in her major department, English.

EDWARD LEE SCRUGGS
BOGALUSA, LA.

Transferring from Jones Junior College, Eddie is working toward his B.A. degree. He is a member of the Hermeanian Literary Society, and has a fellowship in the English department.

LOUISE SHOEMAKER
CLINTON, MISS.

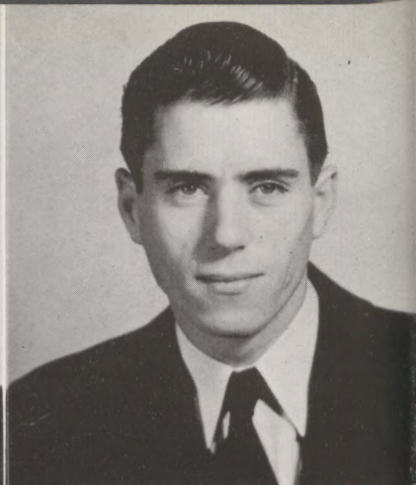

Louise has distinguished herself as a Philomathean, president of Y. W. A., B. S. U. Council member, fellow in the music department, and was selected this year for Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. To top that, she's assistant to the big-wigs of the administrative offices.

ARLIS E. SMITH

PIAVE, MISS.

Genial Arlis transferred from Clarke Junior College, and since being at Mississippi College has gained the distinction of membership in the Philomathean Literary Society and the Ministerial Association. Doubtlessly his main distinction is that he is one of the few brethren with a car.

NORA VEE SMITH

JACKSON, MISS.

Transferring from Hinds Junior College, Nora Vee has maintained a distinction average, has been a staunch Hermenian and a capable English fellow. After graduation she's planning on further study at B. B. I.

JACK JARMAN THIGPEN

BAY SPRINGS, MISS.

Jack's main interest has been in pre-med work, and he was a member of the Pre-Med Club. Jack's nocturnal restlessness and a diurnal cheerfulness reveal a paradox defying solution. An all-round athlete, he performs with equal dexterity in any sport. Football is his main dish.

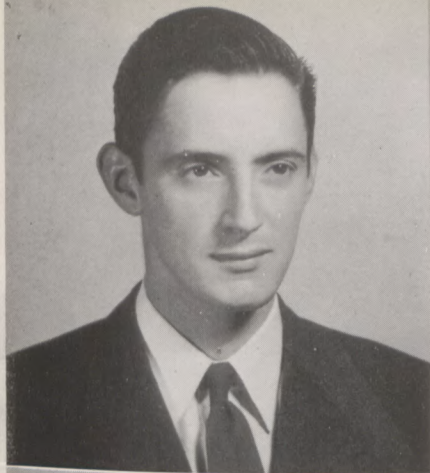

NICHOLAS BURKE TRAVIS

MAGNOLIA, MISS.

Burke has astounded the student body by his deep philosophical views. As a member of Company C, Platoon 2, he was elected vice-president of the student body. He was actively interested also in the Pre-Med Club and the Choral Union.

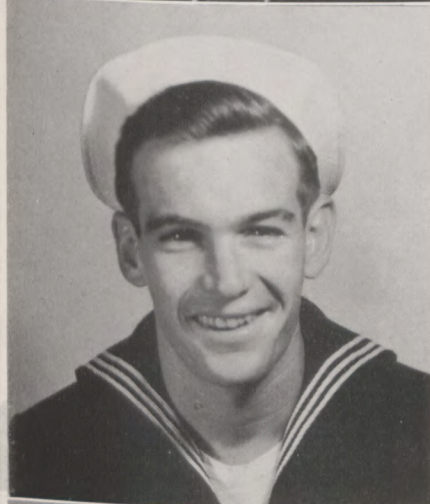

ROBERT SWAIN TROTTER

COLUMBUS, MISS.

If ever there was a sincere and earnest student, it is Robert. As a member of the Ministerial Association, the B. S. U. Council, the Hermenian Literary Society, president of I. R. C., history fellow, winner of the W. M. U. and Kitchings' Scholarships, and varsity debater, he has, perhaps, exhibited his persistence better by his steady pursuits in the Cranfill household.

ELEANOR SUE VALENTINE

MEMPHIS, TENN.

From Laurel and Ellisville Junior College, Sue has become a member of the Philomathean Literary Society, twice member of the Honor Council, selected as chairman her senior year, and an active member of the B. S. U.

BILLYE SUE WALKER

BRAXTON, MISS.

Shy and demure, Billye Sue had little trouble captivating one Billy Skelton, and wedding bells should ring in the very near future. She chose to throw her lot in with the Hermenians.

LUTHER WHITE

BATESVILLE, MISS.

When the naval unit came along, Luther donned his sailor suit and became a member of Company B, Platoon 2. He has distinguished himself in athletics, as student body president, member of the Honor Council, Executive Council, and B. S. U. Council. Special distinction average rated him a member of I. R. C., and a chemistry lab assistant, with all his spare moments going to Lib Cole. His next big assignment will be medical school.

EARL M. WIGGS, JR.

CHALYBEATE, MISS.

Earl should be a big business asset, having majored in commerce. Among his interests at Mississippi College have been the Philomathean Literary Society, the Band, and the Business Club.

EUGENE WILDER

HATTIESBURG, MISS.

Formerly attending Mississippi Southern College, Eugene is now trying to win his commission in the Naval Reserve. Pleasant and a good sport, Eugene has won a host of friends on the campus.

MILTON RUSSELL WILDER

PONOTOC, MISS.

Mr. Wilder's previous work was done at Clarke Junior College with summer work at Blue Mountain. He's a hard working fellow, holding down a full-time job on top of his studies.

HAXEL WILLIAMS

GLOSTER, MISS.

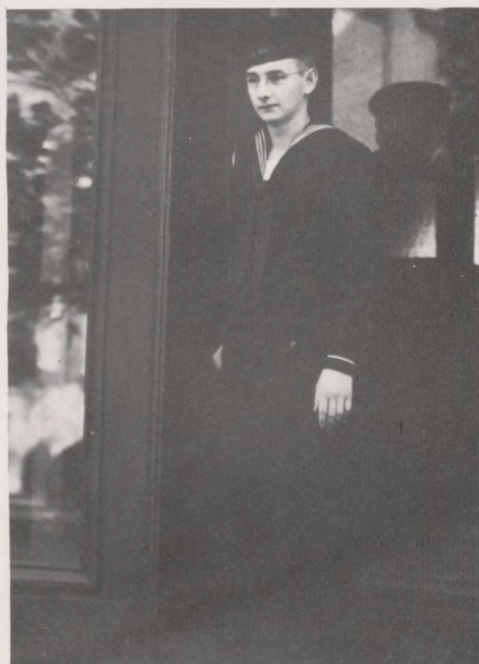

Having specialized in Farrar since she came to Mississippi College, Hack has made all A's; and no mistake about it, those wedding bells rang. She's always good natured and great fun to be around.

The high efficiency and the wise consideration of the Commanding Officer, Lt. A. K. Burt, have largely been responsible for the outstanding success of the unit, and his fact and courtesy have won for him the genuine affection of his men.

Pharmacist Mate Second Class R. E. Nugent is a capable assistant in the medical department.

Lt. (j. g.) C. D. Ellison, head of the unit's athletic department, has done much to help the morale of the unit by initiating entertainments.

Storekeeper First Class Harry Retz has smoothly and efficiently managed the supply branch of the unit.

Yeoman Second Class H. C. Beckham, known to the men of the unit as "Beck," assists in the clerical department.

D. H. Nicholson, Yeoman First Class, is an industrious assistant who aids in the unit's clerical work.

D SHIPS COMPANY

Lt. (j. g.) Henry Pettit, the Executive Officer, has a great capacity for work, and is amiably respected by the men of the unit.

Lt. Homer L. Howard is in charge of the Navy's Medical Department at Mississippi College. He keeps a careful watch on the unit's health and administers efficiently to their ailments.

Pharmacist Mate First Class J. P. Millman is highly efficient in remedying the unit's ailments.

Chief Specialist (A) William Audish, the Division Officer, is amiably known by the men of the unit for his friendly "hi ya'."

Chief Specialist (A) Dennis Rigan is the boxing coach, and has contributed much to the efficiency of the unit.

Chief Specialist (A) R. E. Bowen is the coach of the unit's basketball team.

M. C. SPORTS

SOFTBALL

The first day of July, 1944, is an important date in the already glorious history of Mississippi College. The Navy set up a V-12 Unit here and with it came young men from all over the country. Boys won't be boys without a ball. As soon as softball equipment arrived the grassy tract behind Jennings Hall began to look more like an athletic field. To knock the Hollywood baseball into the outer pastures, for pitchers, the team depended on Clay Feagan and B. D. Lanningham. They had handy such men as Haverstock, Dean, "Boo-Boo" Barbour, "Cup" Barbour, and "Bull" Johnson. The fielding gems were displayed by Watkins, Ferrell, Rowe, and Joe Baker. The squad was rounded out with other noteworthies, Smock, Tommy Bibb, "Pinky" Williams, Gunn, Reynolds, and Priolo. This team wasn't exactly big league in caliber, but it had great love for the game. With such clowns as Bullock, manager, and Hale, scorekeeper, to cheer it on, the team was spurred to two big victories and only two defeats. The winning of two games from Clinton P. W. C. counteracted the losing of one each to J. A. A. B. and Millsaps.

CHEERLEADERS

Troy Taylor, Bobbie Thompson, Jenelle Burson, and Kenny Pepper.

While the unit team was playing inter-service camp games each platoon furnished an aggregation that struggled deliriously for the battalion championship. Into the finals of the tournament emerged First Platoon, Company C, after winning a hard-fought series with First Platoon, Company A, and First Platoon, Company B, the winner of two wild games with Second Platoon, Company C. Primarily the game for the title was a pitchers' battle between Feagan and Lanningham. In the C Company contender's half of the ninth, Drum slapped out a base hit to untie the 5-5 score. Feagan had won the battle and First Platoon, C Company had won the unit championship, 6-5.

The champions were Dean, Feagan, Drum, Looney, Haverstock, Hudson, Jack Clark, Fiala, Carr, and Friend. The second place honors went to softballers Biggerstaff, Lanningham, Gene Barbour, Harry Martin, T. Bibb, Heath, Ingram, O. V. Johnson, Herbert, Gunn, and Fowler.

B O X I N G

The boxing team was the only undefeated athletic organization on the station. As usual, winners are popular but this group of men would have been popular if they had not won a bout. They won two team matches from the J. A. A. B. glove squad, the first series showing three favorable decisions, two for the opponents, and two draws. Taking on the rivals, Millsaps, Chief Riggan's pugilists retained their status quo when they took three and lost a like number. When the aspirants turned out for the initial workouts only one man was found with previous ring duty. Chief Riggan took these inexperienced yet enthusiastic men and polished them scientifically, turning out a classy set of artistic leather throwers. Since boxing is an individual's sport each man will be considered separately.

ROY PRIOLO—He was the only man with experience and was unable to schedule a match. His hints to teammates helped to make them ring-wise.

JOHNNY BIBB—This former tin-can sailor lost his only encounter and couldn't get another fight after he got in condition.

J. A. LONGSHORE—This powerhouse won two fights, one decision and a TKO.

A. V. SMITH—He was a smooth fighter but he was rough on his opponent. His only fight ended in a draw.

LARRY MERCER—The Kansas Klipper was ever ready for battle but he was not given a chance to show his stuff.

J. O. WILLIAMS—This colorful character punched his way to two decisive victories.

LES TAYLOR—He lost his only fight but came on courageously before becoming exhausted from over-exertion.

JACK HODGKINS—“Beau Jack” slapped his long left in the rival's face to win three, topping the record of wins.

H. H. SAUCIER—He was a fast and vicious mixer who won one and lost one.

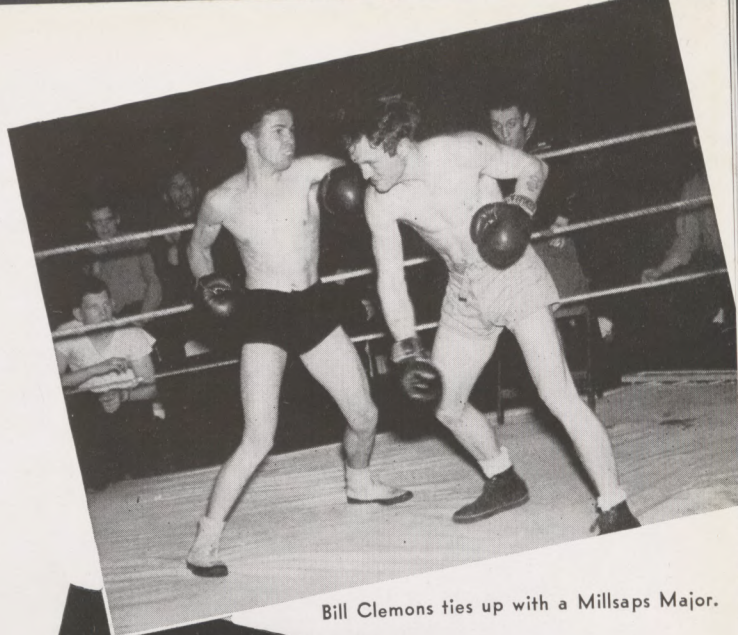

BILL CLEMONS—A game guy who fought some tough fighters. He drew one and lost one.

BEN A. MOORE—He lost one but gained the plaudits of the crowd.

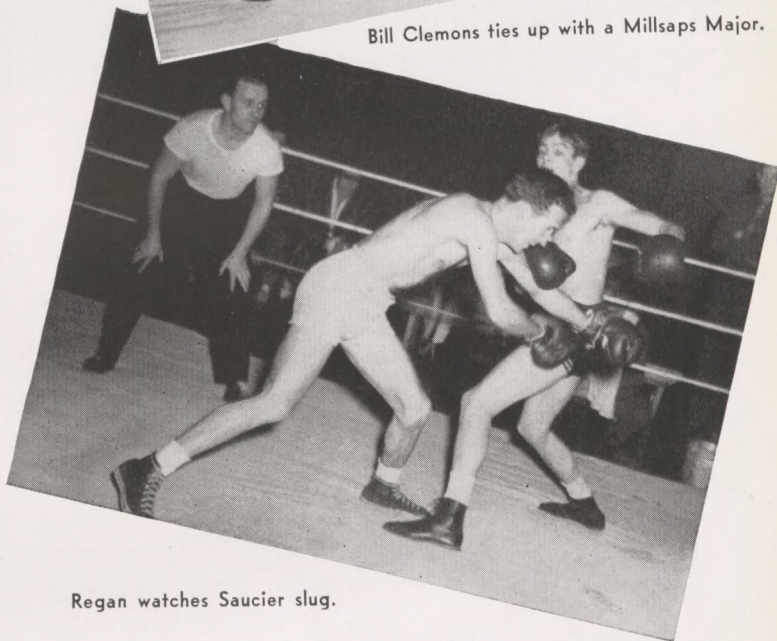

HARRY MARTIN—This boy from Bessemer showed plenty of class while winning two and losing one.

JACK HARRINGTON—He fought one draw and lost a decision but his lack of experience dampened not his enthusiasm for the ring game.

TOMMY BIBB—“Little Bibber” was cagey and courageous but he never entered the ring for an inter-squad bout.

B A S K E T B A L L

As a whole the basketball season was a successful one, the record showing six victories and four defeats. Soon after a service league was formed in November more than 20 men turned out for the first practices. Chief Ortman, selected as coach, put the men through gruelling workouts at odd-time sessions and instilled them with helpful hints for use on the hardwood. At each game 12 men were nominated to represent Mississippi College on the court, the members varying for each game. Potentially, this team was the best in the league, with individual players that would have been an asset to any of the league's cage combinations. The conditions of practice, and the loss of good men to such causes as that infamous Academic Tree were detrimental, but this group of cagers was admired by their followers for flares of brilliance, "never say die" spirit and splendid sportsmanship. Chief Audish took over the coaching helm when Chief Ortman left the program as an Ensign late in December. The new coach added color to the team with his informal fight talks and peppy practice drills. The usually dark days of winter would never have been the neon shades that they were if it had not been for the lighted cage coliseum and the thump-thump of the bouncing leather.

The team at some time or other placed the following men on the hardwood: Rowe, a neat forward with a streamlined western-styled shot—Enis, a gigantic high-scoring center—Huggins, a popular player and justly so—Feagan, a steady and dependable guard—Roy Clark, a ball-hawk under the defensive backboard—Gene Barbour, at his best when needed worst and his best was nothing short of superb—Hicks, a slim fellow who hooked them in with either hand—Friend, a mighty little guy with a keen eye—Drum, especially good on tip-ins under the basket—Rowan, when "Peck" was on the court he was in the ball game—John Miller, he left very little space between him and the man he guarded—Dean, handled the ball smoothly—Fiala, agile and adept—Carr, "Lefty" could hit the bucket—Freeman, "Seaman" was never heard but his opponents felt the effects of his ability—Kitchings, a hustler and a handy-andy—Davie, a fast and furious little forward. The managers for the organization were Zaleski, "Joe Skee," the swish-shot artist, and Ingram, white-trousered water boy. "Doc" Carnes, the castor oil man, was trainer.

Rowe's famous Texas push shot.

The results of the league games follow:

M. C. 43; Foster General Hospital 11—off to a good start.

M. C. 20; Jackson Army Air Base 15—a slow game.

M. C. 27; Millsaps 28—the game of the year and a tough loss.

M. C. 38; Miss. Ordnance Plant 23—first loss for M. O. P.

M. C. 42; Clinton Prisoner of War Camp 30—Ortman's farewell.

M. C. 50; Foster Generals 23—a runaway.

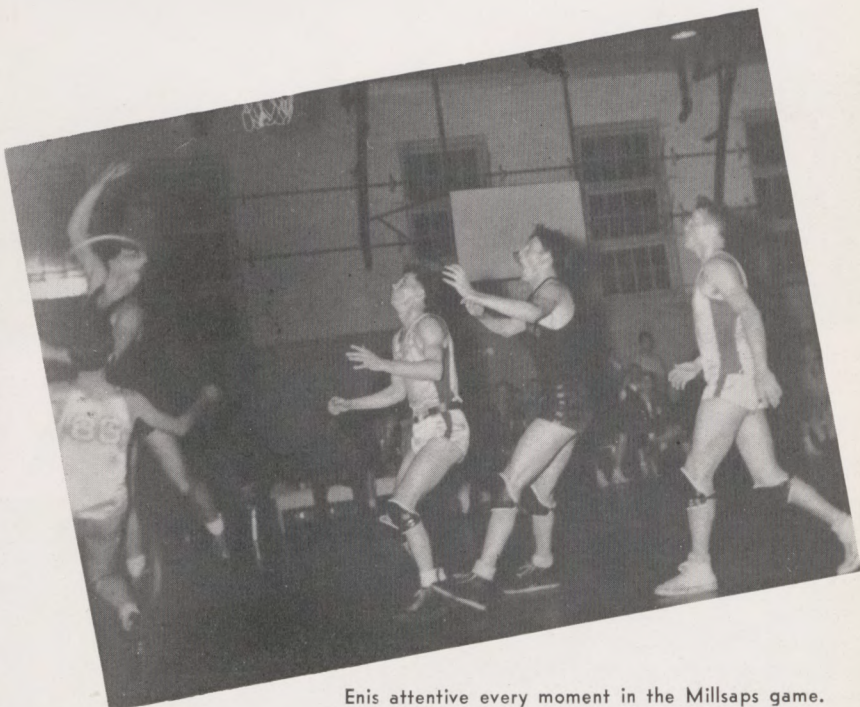

M. C. 43; J. A. A. B. 37—Audish keeps team in tie for league lead.

M. C. 33; M. O. P. 38—a loss on an unfamiliar court.

M. C. 38; P. O. W. C. 43—neighbors upset the cracker barrel.

M. C. 28; Millsaps 50—Aw, forget it!

At all the home games a few spirited persons led the boosters in backing up the boys. The cheerleaders were Jenelle Burson, Bobbie Thompson, Kenny Pepper, Troy Taylor, and Jimmy Riley. Leading the group of musicians that rendered that exciting background was Arthur Haverstock.

THE 1944 TRIBESMAN STAFF

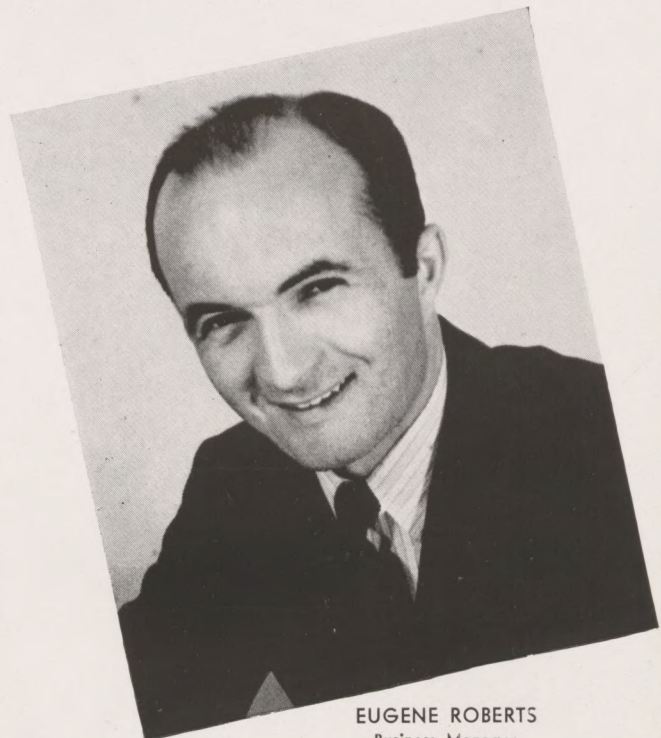

JACK MERRILL
Editor

Joe Roberts and Jerry Hall did valuable preliminary work on the TRIBESMAN while they were editor and business manager. Upon entering the Naval Reserve in the fall, they resigned and were succeeded by Jack Merrill, editor, and Eugene Roberts, business manager. The new editor and staff increased subscriptions and took pictures at a mad rate. Simultaneously, Eugene Roberts and his business staff began an excellent job of selling ads. Special credit goes to Nora Vee Smith, a business manager's inspiration; Elizabeth Cole, who typed his letters; and Billy Stogner, Billie Ryle, Elizabeth Simmons, Jacque Ashley, Helen Armstrong, Etoie Hodges, and Martha Seale Baine, who persistently walked to sell ads.

Ted Clark was prompt in securing write-ups and performed a man-size job as assistant editor. Efficient service was rendered by John Cox, Navy editor; Tom Ingram, sports editor; Telka Guy and Flora Finch, class editors; Katherine Criegler, feature editor; and Mary Jean Berry, John Steen, Jean Horn, and Rosalee Hayden, typists. The whole book was enhanced by Joe Roberts' novel and artistic layouts.

We have tried to give our subscribers a record of M. C. life in print and in abundant pictures. The final criterion of our success will be the pleasure you derive from this publication.

Through its exchange system, THE WATCH and Mississippi College have become well known throughout the Navy, both to enlisted men and officers.

The Philomathean Literary Society seeks for its members those students who are interested in developing their forensic abilities. In weekly programs they encourage objective analysis and criticism of current ideas. Comprehending the importance of freedom of speech to truth and effective democracy, its members have preserved the Philomathean tradition of studying and practicing the principles of public speech. Despite the difficulties coming from the emotional stress of a world in chaos, the Philomatheans preserve their confidence in democracy and have emerged as champions of these principles which Americans hold dear.

The HERMENIAN LITER A

Thursday night meeting.

OFFICERS

Pauline Armstrong, assistant critic; Marcus Alexander, treasurer; Percy Renick, vice-president; Devee Hillman, president; Robert Trotter, critic; Earl Kelly, sergeant; Myra Gullledge, secretary.

Under the leadership of President Devee Hillman the Hermenian Literary Society has encouraged individual thinking and self expression, two essentials of the working democracy in which its members will later participate. The society is popular and the administration considers its work worthy of extra curricular credit. As is the case with most campus organizations, the literary societies have a twofold emphasis: the literary and the social. A highlight of the social calendar was the annual banquet given in conjunction with the Philomatheans. To develop the literary talent of students, weekly programs are presented which acquaint the members with the current and lasting problems that confront the race.

Of tremendous importance in the religious life of the students on the campus is the B. S. U. Council. The council, composed of representatives from all of the religious organizations on the campus, functions for the purpose of leading students into greater Christian usefulness.

Under the auspices of the Clinton Baptist Church, the council provides programs and activities that are varied and interesting. The council encourages Sunday School, Training Union, Program Meetings, and Worship Service attendance. It sponsors the Student Center each Saturday night, which provides wholesome entertainment in the form of games and refreshments. A musical banquet, presented during the winter, was an affair of significance. It proved to be a success and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended.

The council is an ardent supporter of the dual ideal of intellectual and religious progress which is a great M. C. tradition.

THE BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Monday-Wednesday practice.

The fifty voices of the Mississippi College Choral Union are chosen from those civilian and naval students who try out at the beginning of each term. The finest music, from the pen of John Sebastian Bach on down to those of Noble Cain today, are studied and presented in chapel programs and in formal evening concerts. These colorful concerts are thoroughly enjoyed by the students who know that good music represents hours of conscientious practice. For this noble work in music we are indebted to the fine taste and diligent efforts of Misses Mary Opal and Eleanor Crone who are truly making a fine contribution to the development of vocal talent, and toward better musical appreciation on the campus.

Although only in its second year, the Little Symphony Orchestra has already won a warm place in the hearts of the student body and townspeople of Clinton. All students who play instruments and who love to perform the works of the masters are eligible for membership. The orchestra, under the talented direction of the Crone sisters, is designed to broaden the musical culture of the students and to give them a keener appreciation of worth-while music. This organization gives frequent chapel programs, and with the Choral Union presents one formal evening concert each term.

The MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

One of the most indispensable organizations on the campus is the Ministerial Association. Every ministerial student is considered a member. Each week the association meets for inspiration and fellowship. Inasmuch as many of the ministerial students are pastors, these meetings afford splendid opportunities for discussion of religious problems vital to them in their field of service. Students, who are not pastors, find these aids valuable to them prior to their entrance into active ministerial duties. Occasional outside speakers add greatly to the effectiveness of the programs and bring the students into close contact with religious activities and areas of thought. The aim of the association is to supplement academic education with lofty Christian ideals to the end that well-trained, consecrated ministers, with a broadened outlook, will be sent forth to preach the higher values of life.

OUR PATRONS

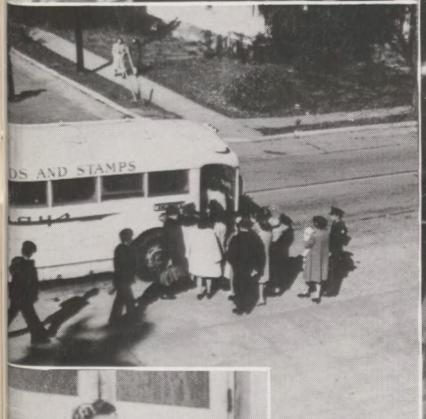

To stimulate the sale of subscriptions the TRIBESMAN staff offered a free page to the platoon which contained the highest percentage of subscribers to the TRIBESMAN. The same offer was made to organizations and classes. The winners were Platoon II, Company B, and the Hermenian Literary Society. We proudly present as patrons to a worthy cause the members of Platoon II, Company B, and Miss Opal Dane Ferguson, sponsor of the Hermenians.

What D'ya Mean—"Free Enterprise"?

That's just a name for the way America works.

That when a man sets out with the pre-determined goal in his mind to be a doctor or a shoe salesman or an electrical engineer—that's what he wants to be. And he can be.

That when a farmer plows his field and plants his seed, he's got a right to a fair return. A right to buy more land—and extend his fences.

That when a business man founds a business, he's building for a future—and nobody can take that future from him.

That when any man works hard and saves his dollars, those dollars are his. He can spend them if he likes, or he can invest his money, secure in the knowledge it's working for him.

Call that any name you like. Call it Free Enterprise or Democracy or Opportunity. Whatever you call it, it's American-bred-in-the-bone.

Without it, nobody's going to plan any further than tomorrow. Without it, there's no incentive to invent or invest, discover or develop. Without it—and don't let any one tell you otherwise—this country would lose its high place among the nations of the world.

Behind every effect there is a cause, underlying each achievement there are workers, and supporting all yearbooks there are innumerable contributors. Backstage unheralded heroes work. Into the 1944 TRIBESMAN has gone the aid of many people and divergent interests—from our subscribers, advertisers, and staff to those who have given only moral support. As space does not permit us to personally acknowledge everyone to whom we are indebted, we pause to salute only a few of the outstanding.

We express our indebtedness to our printers, Mr. W. A. Benson and Mr. E. W. Benson and their artist, Mr. Bob Eckhart. During the summer they laid out the original dummy which, with alterations, has been the backbone for this publication. Despite rationing of printing materials, they have given us prewar service. They were ever willing to advise, make adjustments, and correct the inevitable mistakes of a green staff.

Mr. Robert Faerber of the Alabama Engraving Company has given us prompt service and fine engravings. He ably interpreted our layouts and showed us many favors in making last-minute adjustments.

A proficient accountant, Business Manager Eugene Roberts, balanced the budget, kept every penny accounted for, collected painlessly, and made prompt payments.

As assistant editor, Ted Clark practiced, as usual, his everyday philosophy, "Don't put off until tomorrow what you can do today," which made for smooth sailing.

Joe Roberts masterfully displayed one of the best developed of his many talents in designing the layouts.

Mary Jean Berry's faithful and efficient work in cataloguing pictures, compiling roles, and typing letters augmented progress.

Conditions forced the staff to rely largely on student photography. Some of our pictures are not of professional quality, but we believe that our subscribers prefer an abundance of fair pictures to a scarcity of good pictures. The capable photographic aid and advise of Dr. E. B. Thompson was invaluable to whatever success we have achieved.

In brief, these are the constructive forces which, under the direction of the editors, have made this annual unique. We heartily thank every contributor.
